

2011 Sessions Songwriting Policies

Tuition Policy

All private and group classes run on a six-week schedule. Tuition for all classes, including camps (summer, winter, etc.), is due upon registration and no refunds will be issued after the first day of class.

Absence Policy

There is no reimbursement or credit given for missed classes. A 24-hour advance notice is required to gain a make-up time (at the discretion of the teacher, if time permits) for missed private lessons. Students who do not give notice, forfeit their lesson. If a teacher is absent from a scheduled lesson, a make-up lesson shall be scheduled at a mutually beneficial time.

Indemnity Policy

Parent agrees, for Student, Parent, and their respective heirs, assigns, and legal representatives, to indemnify, defend, and hold Sessions Songwriting and its employees and agents (collectively referred to as "Sessions Songwriting" for the purposes of this paragraph) harmless from and against all losses, liabilities, judgments, claims, causes of action, costs and expenses (including fees and disbursements of legal counsel) that may be incurred or sustained by Sessions Songwriting arising from or related to i) any injuries to Student or ii) Student's acts or omissions. The foregoing indemnity shall not apply to any loss arising from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of Sessions Songwriting.

Intellectual Property Policy

Sessions Songwriting is an educational facility where songs, melodies and compositions are created under the guidance of a mentor/teacher. Due to the collaborative environment in which these songs are created, Sessions Songwriting retains the sole right to use all songs, melodies, and compositions as it sees fit.

I agree to the policies above.
